

ANAPHYLAXIS

NOTES:

What is Anaphylaxis?

A severe life threatening allergic reaction to food, insect bite, medication, or latex. (May be exercise induced)

Symptoms May Include:

- Face – Itchy eyes or nose, flushed face, swelling of tongue and lips, metallic taste
- Skin – Itchiness, redness, hives, swelling of skin anywhere on the body
- Throat – Itchiness, tightness, hoarseness, hacking cough, difficulty swallowing, choking
- Lungs – Difficulty breathing, shortness of breath, repetitive coughing, wheezing
- Stomach – Vomiting, nausea, stomach pain, diarrhea
- General – Dizziness, unsteadiness, drowsiness, sense of impending doom, loss of consciousness

What To Do:

- Administer epinephrine (adrenaline) injection immediately. Give a second dose in 10 – 15 minutes if reaction continues or worsens
- Call 911 and tell them someone is having a life-threatening allergic reaction
- Go to the nearest hospital immediately even if symptoms subside
- Remain for observation 4 – 6 hours

If you are at risk for anaphylaxis:

1. See a qualified allergist
2. An injection of epinephrine could save your life, but only if you have it with you. Carry auto-injector(s) with you at all times. Ana-Tote™ and Ana-Tote Twin™ are versatile carrying cases for your auto-injector(s). To protect your auto-injector from damage, keep it in a Protectube™.
3. Wear a MedicAlert® bracelet or necklace at all times.
